

Abstract Of The Disclosure

A device for detecting an obstacle underride is situated on the vehicle front. The device detects an obstacle underride via a vertically positioned distance measuring device. Radar sensors, ultrasonic sensors, or video sensors may be used for 5 distance measuring.